

JOIN THE QUEST! THE ACADEMIC WORLDQUEST!

Join Academic WorldQuest and your school team could win a spot in the National competition in Washington, DC, and a cash award to help with the trip!

Academic WorldQuest is a competition about international affairs for high school students. The competition is organized by the World Affairs Councils of America with over 4,000 high school students nationwide participating. The first step to DC is our local competition.

The San Diego World Affairs Council invites you to participate in the San Diego competition on March 9, 2019, at the beautiful University of San Diego.

How do students benefit?

- *AWQ complies with national Common Core standards;
- Great Decisions* briefing book and website access (a Foreign Policy Association program);
- *San Diego World Affairs Council expert briefings for your schools (to be individually scheduled at school's request);

- *Membership in the San Diego World Affairs Council;
- *Winning teams from local competitions across the country are invited to Washington, D.C., for the national competition on April 27, 2019.
- *The local winning team will be awarded $1,000 to help with travel expenses.

Topics for the 2018-2019 Competition:

Country in Focus: Qatar - How to Deal with North Korea - Global Refugee and Migration Crisis - #WeAreNATO: The Alliance at 70 - Great Decisions -Japan-U.S. Relations -Space Policy - World Trade Organization (WTO) - Bridging Divides to Build Peace - Current Events

How does AWQ Work?

If you have an advisor and four students (grades 9-12), you have a team! The World Affairs Council provides an online study guide.

Cost for local competition: $100 per team (includes continental breakfast and lunch!)
Registration Deadline: March 1, 2019
Local competition: March 9, 2019
